DEDICATION

We, the Stony Echoes Staff of 1971, have chosen to dedicate this book to Mrs. Charlouise Ducy. Mrs. Ducy has served as a teacher of English, U.S. History, and World History at Stonington High School for the past 30 years. Her devotion in preparing her students for a vocation or college makes her the successful teacher that she is. Sharing her knowledge with her students, Mrs. Ducy motivates us to want to understand and learn more. In her classes she creates an informal atmosphere by combining wit and humor with her teaching.

Teachers receive few rewards. Satisfaction in a job well done is one of these few, and Mrs. Ducy has earned this satisfaction. We admire and respect Mrs. Ducy; this book is for her.

Seniors are embarassed . . .

to say that they study.

One would just like to leave with her buddy.

To free 2nd floor classes . . .

a ladder to the rescue.

Bob acts as a look-out . . .

while Hoss tunnels through.

Seniors spin in circles.

They streak down the slide.

Hoot throws cold water . . .

from which Dewey can't hide.

They all can jump high.

They swing through the air.

They down a whole case with hardly a care.

Seniors fill their stomachs.

It's just social, they think.

But then those must rest who've had too much to drink.

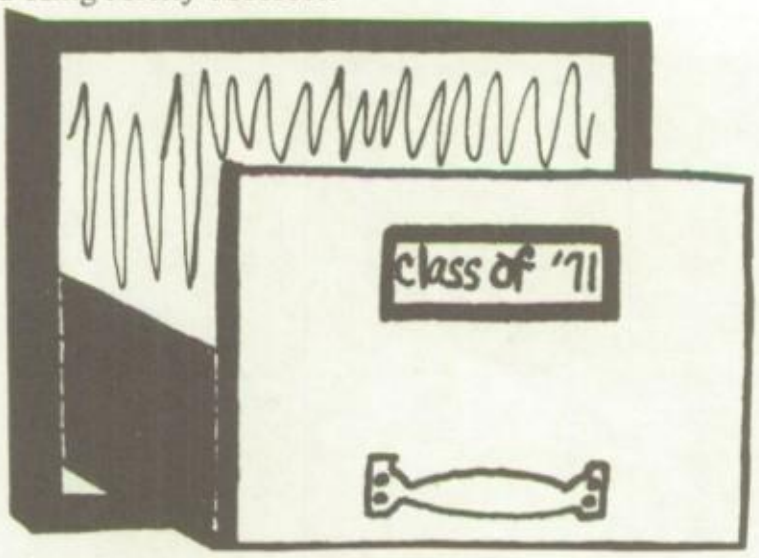
Seniors "On File"

Twenty-nine freshmen began their first year of Stonington High School in the fall of 1967. Class officers were President Fred Roth, Vice-President Micky Moffett, Secretary Bruce Briggs, and Treasurer Jo Garwood. Nancy Doyle was elected Winter Formal attendant. Several class members participated in the school musical, "Swinging High". The class finished the year with a trip to Pere Marquette.

As the sophomore year began, twenty-seven students elected President Micky Moffett, Vice-President Charles DeFoor, Secretary Ronald Sonw, and Treasurer Jo Garwood as class officers. Jo also represented the class in the Winter Formal court. In FHA Nell Graham was vice-president of public relations. Bruce Briggs served as treasurer of the German Club and sentinel in FFA. Micky Moffett was secretary of the Industrial Arts Club. At the end of the year the class went to the Lake of the Woods for a day.

Junior class officers were Jo Garwood, president; Randy Hawthorne, vice-president; Micky Moffett, secretary; and Bruce Briggs, treasurer. Karen Smith was elected class attendant at the Winter Formal. FFA officers were Sentinel Bruce Briggs and Reporter Fred Roth. Nell Graham was second vice-president, Nancy Coffey was vice-president of recreation, and Nancy Doyle was historian in FHA. German Club officers were Karen Smith, president; Denise Wattelet, vice-president; Fred Roth, secretary; and Mark Ringler, treasurer. In band Lou Swigert was treasurer, and Fred Roth was manager. Charles DeFoor was secretary-treasurer of the Industrial Arts Club, and Nancy Doyle was secretary-treasurer of the Librarians Club. Jo Garwood and Fred Roth were junior editors of the yearbook. Student Council members were Karen Smith and Bruce Briggs. Many of the class took part in "Where is the Mayor", another school musical. At the end of the year the class entertained the seniors at a prom with the theme of "An Evening in Camelot". Again the class took a trip to the Lake of the Woods.

David Downs was chosen as president by twenty-nine seniors. Other officers were Nell Graham, vice-president; Kathy Myers, secretary; and Nancy Doyle, treasurer. Karen Smith was elected Winter Formal Queen with Lou Swigert as senior attendant. The class was entertained by the juniors at a prom entitled "The Age of Aquarius". Reigning over the evening's activities were Queen Jo Garwood and King Micky Moffett.



Lou Swigert was elected president of the Student Council with Charles DeFoor as vice-president. FHA Officers were Cathy Callan, president; Nell Graham, vice-president; Nancy Coffey, second vice-president; Nancy Doyle, treasurer; and Elaine Cooper, historian. Senior GAA officers were President Lou Swigert and Vice-President Kathy Myers. Nancy Doyle was elected vice-president of the Librarians Club. Band officers for 1970-71 were President Lou Swigert, Vice-President Jo Garwood, and Secretary-Treasurer Bruce Briggs. Senior officers in the Industrial Arts Club were Charles DeFoor, president; Roger Dooley, vice-president; and Steve Myers, treasurer. The FTA, a newly formed organization, elected as officers Karen Smith, president; Bruce Briggs, vice-president; Fred Roth, secretary; and Nell Graham, treasurer. All of the seniors served on the yearbook staff with Jo Garwood and Fred Roth as editors. Nell Graham, editor, and Karen Smith, assistant editor, led the newspaper staff to a successful year. The class presented their senior play, "Meet My Ghost", on May 6.

The Class of '71 contributed greatly to the sports program at SHS. Nearly all the boys were involved in sports during their their high school careers. They made up the majority of the basketball, baseball, and track teams for the past four years. Seniors on the cheerleading squad were Nancy Coffey and Karen Smith. Chosen to reign over the Wildcat Week were King Charles DeFoor and Queen Karen Smith, who representeed SHS in the Merican Conference queen contest.

Students who participated in the Area Vocational Program included Deb Davis, Robert Besson, David Black, David Downs, Kathy Myers, Phillip Myers, Sidney Scott, and Bob Storm.

Randy Hawthorne earned the title of Valedictorian with Fred Roth and Bruce Briggs as Co-Salutatorians. All three, including Jo Garwood, received the SSA award. Nancy Coffey received the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, and Karen Smith received the DAR award. American Legion award winners were Karen Smith and Fred Roth. Fred also received the Activity award.

The year ended with the seniors enjoying a trip to Giant City State Park. Baccalaureate was held on May 23. The Class of '71 graduated from Stonington High School on May 28, 1971.

JUNIORS

Some like to dance.

Some like to drink.

Juniors are all kind of weird, don't you think?

They give eloquent speeches . . .

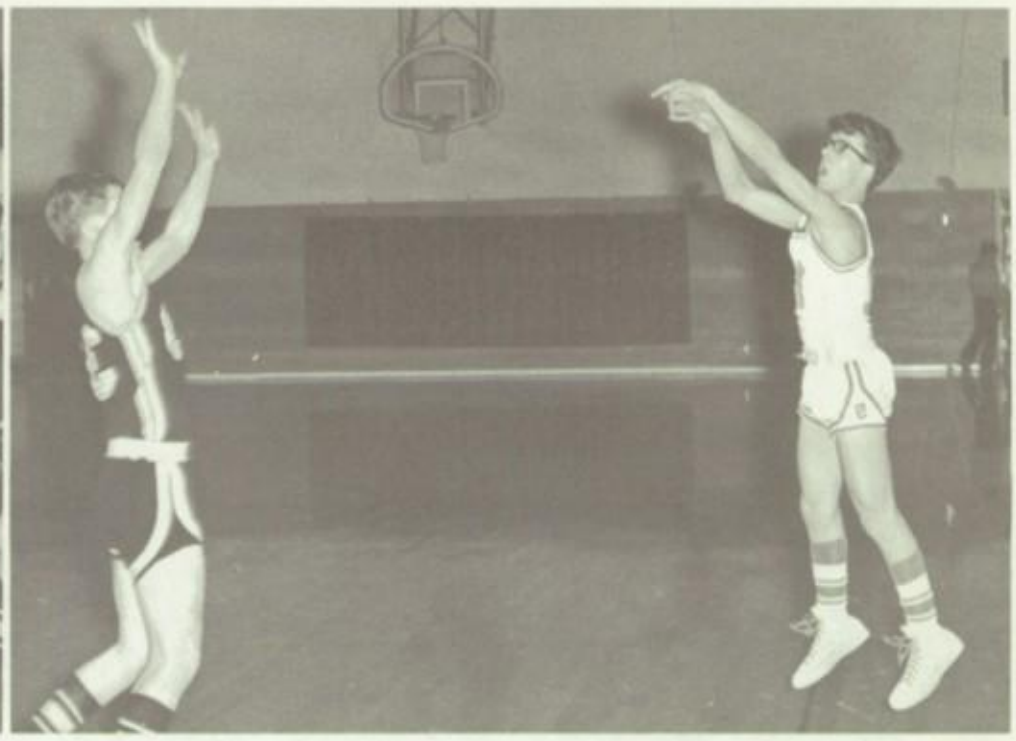
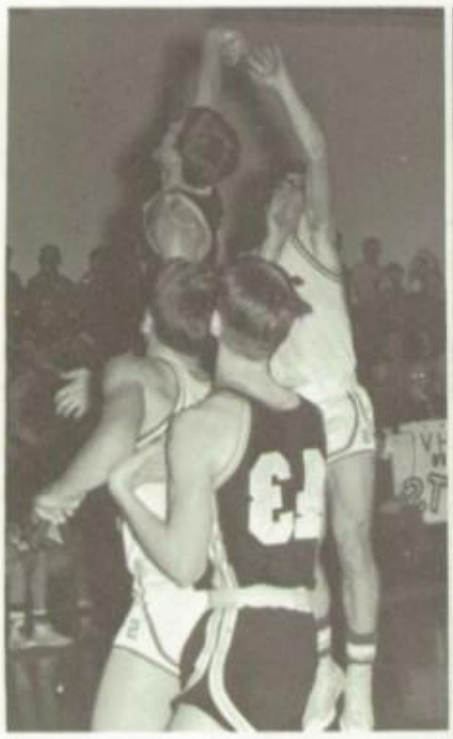
Hey, what's going on up there?



The closer Steve gets, the more he needs Clairol.



Pssst. How about a date after the game?

Hoss leaves the Bethany team defenseless.

These boys love ballet.

I bet that you didn't know Fred could dance on his toes.

Let's not get carried away Bruce.

The 1970 Winter Formal

"Winter World of Love" was the theme chosen for the 1970 Winter Formal. Heading the committees were Lou Swigert, chairman; Kathy Myers, secretary; and Jo Garwood, treasurer. Judy Lynn served as chairman of the decoration committee. Encircled by evergreen and maple trees, the dance floor depicted a park scene. A centerpiece of lighted trees surrounded by a white fence enhanced the winter setting. The stage took the appearance of a winter snow scene. Highlighting the evening was the presentation of the queen and her court.

Wildcat Week

November 23-25 was a special time for all students of S.H.S. The festivities began Monday night with a freezing snake dance and were topped off with hot dogs and hot cholcoate to warm up. Tuesday was the highlight of our celebration as the domineering Wildcats topped the Mt. Auburn Eagles by a score of 84-48. With two victories behind them, the Cats were ready for more challenges. The victory was celebrated at a dance on Wednesday which featured the music of the Brotherhood. Crowned as the king and queen of Wildcat Week were Hoss DeFoor and Karen Smith. Wildcat Week ended as a great success as attendance records at all three events were established.

Steve Myers, Nell Graham, Elaine Cooper, Nancy Coffey, Fred Roth, Denise Wattelet, Karen Smith, Bob Towns.

"Meet My Ghost"

On May 6, 1971, the Senior Class presented a mystery-comedy entitled "Meet My Ghost". Only eight characters played parts; however, there were many behind the scene characters. These people were very essential and did a great job. The three directors met quite a challenge since they were all new teachers in the elementary school and had never directed a play nor seen one at Stonington before. They came through in flying colors as the play after hours of work turned out as a great success.

SHS BAND

The Stonington High School Band, which included 59 members, again felt success with Mr. Reid as their director. They presented a Burt Bacharach Concert in the fall, a Christmas Concert at the time of the yuletide, and a Spring Concert. A music festival for band, with area schools participating, was held at Stonington this year. Entering Class D competition at Hume, the band received a superior rating for their performance. A few weeks later several members returned to Hume for the Solo and Ensemble Contest bringing back eight firsts and two seconds. The band completed the year by playing for senior graduation.

Chorus, the Voice of S.H.S.

The 55 member chorus participated in three concerts during the year of 1970-71, the Bacharach Concert, the Christmas Concert, and the Spring Concert. On February 11 they joined with other choruses from area schools at Pana for a chorus festival. A chorus trip was taken in the spring to Assumption and Edinburg.

Picas and erasers in hand, weary editors scanned thumbnail layouts and copy sheets. Trash cans overflowed with rejected literary efforts and discarded candy wrappers. Cropping pictures, writing captions, and designing layouts devoured many school and after-school hours. This year's Stony Echoes staff is composed mostly of seniors and two juniors, Judy Lynn and Kenny Porter. Eight of the staff members attended the I.C.P. Yearbook Seminar held in Champaign last fall to learn the fundamentals of producing a yearbook. Selling advertising space to local businesses and selling popcorn at basketball games helped fo finance the book.

FTA stands for Future Teachers of America, an organization which seeks to give its members a glimpse of what the life of a teacher can be. The kick-off celebration for the newly formed FTA was a combined wiener roast and business meeting. Officers elected were Karen Smith, Pres.; Bruce Briggs, Vice-Pres.; Fred Roth, Sec.; Nell Graham, Treas.; and Martha DeMichael, Reporter. As the year progressed, committees for basketball games, sock hops, speakers, and more money-making projects were formed.

Executives

The Kat's Meow staff was headed this year by Nell Graham, Editor; Ruth Bear, Head Typist; Cathy Callan, Business Manager; Karen Smith, Asst. Editor; Mrs. Lemaire, Advisor; and Elaine Cooper, Copy Editor. NOT HIPPY–NOT BIPPY–BUT NAMES was the main new feature including all of the student body. This is one of the ways the staff tried to make the newspaper truly for all of the students. Sports features were more frequent this year as were word games and cross word puzzles.

The Librarians have been very busy this year. The big job was getting the library ready for use. First there were stacks of books to look through, followed by writing down the titles. Next came typing the cards which preceded the great day of finally shelving books. Now they were ready for business. Helping kids find books and magazines led to checking out articles. Later the elementary division was completed. The last step was the addition of records. The Librarians also held a book fair for two weeks.

By sending the FFA officers to officers training school, the Stonington chapter was assured of a prosperous year. Members of the Land Use Contest team were David Downs, Pete Graham, Mark Ringler, Bob Towns, and Fred Roth, who individually placed third. At the Parliamentary Procedure Contest Fred Roth was chairman, Tim Roth was first place secretary, David Downs was third place floor member, Pete Graham was fourth place floor member, and Joe May was a floor member. Fred Roth won first in prepared speech, and Tim Roth won second in extemporaneous speech at the Section 19 Speech Contest. Chapter boys also participated in the Grain and Poultry Show, the Fat Stock Judging Contest, and Dairy Judging Contest. In November the chapter went to the International Livestock Show in Chicago. Money-making projects included mixed nut sales, a scrap iron drive, a Harlan Queens basketball game, and garden seed sales. The money was used to help finance the Mr. Irresistable Dance and the FFA Ba quet.

Forty eager and energetic girls formed the 1970-71 Stonington Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. World-wide projects included adopting a Korean child, U.N.I.C.E.F., and stuffing Easter seals. Bridging the gap between school and home life, they organized Daddy Date Night and the Mother-Daughter Banquet and co-sponsored the Mr. Irresistable Dance. Money raising projects were Slave Day, Cake Walk, and Stanley products sales. A trip was taken at the end of the end of the year to top off a very eventful year.

Student Council Arbitrates Between Students and Faculty

The main job of the student council was the organization and planning of the Winter Formal. To satisfy the need for an activity room, they arranged for a junior high classroom to be transformed into a student lounge. The lounge provided an area for ping pong tables and pop machines. Through the student council student exchanges were planned with the schools in the Meridan Conference. They also participated in student council joint meetings with these schools.

Dedication of Unit School Building

On Sunday, October 25, 1970, a dedication ceremony was held for the new grade school ubilding, which was constructed adjacent to the high school building. During a brief ceremony, the high school band performed and a series of speakers expressed gratitude to those who made the new school a reality. After the ceremony, the new facilities were open for viewing as the P. T. A. served refreshments in the all-purpose room.
